I. We May Use and Disclose Your Health Information for Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations

Upon admission to a PHS facility or program we require that you sign a consent to uses and disclosures of your health information that are essential to our ability to care for you, including use and disclosure for treatment, payment and healthcare operations. Your health information may be shared among PHS sites and services for these purposes. We have more fully described these uses and disclosures below.

For Treatment. We will use and disclose your health information in providing you with treatment and services. We may disclose your health information to facility and non-facility personnel who may be involved in your care, such as physicians, nurses, nursing assistants, therapists, and other specialists. For example, a nurse caring for you will report any change in your condition to your physician. We may also disclose health information to individuals who will be involved in your care after you leave PHS.

For Payment: We may use and disclose your health information so that we can bill and receive payment for the treatment and services you receive at PHS. For billing and payment purposes, we may disclose your health information to your representative, an insurance or managed care company, Medicare, Medicaid, or another third party payer. For example, we may contact Medicare or your health plan to confirm your coverage or to request prior approval for a proposed treatment or service.

For Health Care Operations: We may use or disclose your health information for operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to manage our programs and to monitor our quality of care. For example, we may use your health information to evaluate a facility's services, including the performance of our staff.

Your health information may be used for research purposes only if the privacy aspects of the research have been reviewed and approved by a special Privacy Board or Institutional Review Board, if the researcher is collecting information in preparing a research proposal, if the research occurs after your death, or if you authorize the use of disclosure.

Marketing: We may use or disclose your health information to our affiliates for the purpose of informing you about our products and services. We do not sell or otherwise provide your health information to our affiliates or third parties for their marketing purposes.

Treatment Alternatives and Health-Related Benefits and Services: We may use your health information to inform you about treatment alternatives and health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you.

III. Your Authorization is Required for Other Uses of Health Information

We will use and disclose your health information (other than as described in this notice or required by law) only with your written authorization. You may revoke your authorization to use or disclose health information in writing, at any time. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose your health information for the purposes covered by the authorization, except where we have already relied on the authorization.

IV. Your Rights Regarding Your Health Information

You have the following rights regarding your health information at PHS:

Right to Request Restrictions: You have the right to request restrictions on our use or disclosure of your health information for treatment, payment, or health care operations. We are not, however, required to agree to all requested restrictions, unless the requested restriction involves information to be sent to a health plan for payment or health care operations purposes and the disclosure relates to products or service that were paid for solely out-of-pocket and such disclosure is not otherwise required by law. You also have the right to restrict the health information we disclose about you to a family member, friend or other person who is involved in your care or the payment for your care. PHS has developed a form for this purpose.

Right of Access to Health Information: You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of your medical or billing records or other written information that may be used to make decisions about your health care, subject to some limited exceptions. PHS has developed a form for this purpose. We will provide such records in the form and format that you request, if the records are readily producible in such form and format; or if not, then in a readable hard copy form or such other form and format agreed to by you and us. We may charge a reasonable fee for our costs in copying and mailing the requested information. If we maintain an electronic health record for you, you may request access to health information in an electronic format or have the information transmitted electronically to a designated recipient. If we are unable to satisfy your request, we may instead provide you with a summary of the information you requested. We may deny your request to inspect or receive copies in certain limited circumstances. We will also tell you in writing the reason for the denial and your right, if any, to request a review of the decision and how to do so. We will act on your request within the time period prescribed by law, currently 30 days, subject to one 30 day extension. If we are unable to respond within the initial 30 days, we will notify you within the first 30 days of the reason for the delay and the anticipated date of our response.

Right to Request Amendment: You have the right to request PHS to amend any health information maintained for as long as the information is kept by or for PHS. Your request must be made in writing and must state the reason for the requested amendment. PHS has developed a form for this purpose. If we deny your request for amendment, we will give you a written denial including the reasons for the denial and the right to submit a written statement disagreeing with the denial.

Right to an Accounting of Disclosures: You have the right to request an “accounting” of our disclosures of your health information. This is a listing of certain disclosures of your health information made by PHS or by others on our behalf. In general, this list will not include certain disclosures, such as routine disclosures made for payment, treatment or health care operations purposes or those made pursuant to a written authorization. However, if we maintain an electronic health record for you, you may be entitled to receive an accounting of routine disclosures of your health information. Your request should indicate the period of time in which you are interested (for example, "from May 1, 2010 to June 1, 2010"). We will be unable to provide you with information that has been destroyed in accordance with our record retention guidelines (in general, we retain records for 7 years after the last date of service). To request an accounting of disclosures, you must submit a request in writing, following specific guidelines. PHS has developed a form for this purpose. The first accounting provided within a 12-month period will be free; for further requests, we may charge you our costs.

Opt Out of Fundraising: You have the right to opt out of receiving any fundraising solicitation from us or our affiliates.

Right to a Paper Copy of this Notice: You have the right to obtain a paper copy of this notice. You may request a copy of this notice at any time.

Right to Request Confidential Communications: You have the right to request that we communicate with you concerning personal health matters in a certain manner or at a certain location. For example, you may request that we make records available for pick-up, or mail them to you at an alternative address, such as a P.O. Box, or you can request that we contact you only at a certain phone number. We will accommodate reasonable requests for such confidential communications. PHS has developed a form for this purpose. If there are no special instructions, for personal health matters, we will communicate directly with you or your listed responsible party(ies). If there is no answer at the phone number of the responsible party(ies), a message may be left.

Right to be Informed of a Breach: You have the right to be informed of any unauthorized disclosure of your health information when such disclosure is deemed to be a "breach" under applicable law. An unauthorized disclosure may not be a "breach" if we determine, in accordance with standards set forth in applicable law, rules, and interpretative legal guidance, that such disclosure has a low likelihood of resulting in use of such information by unauthorized persons.

How to Exercise Your Rights: In order to exercise any of your rights described above, you must submit your request in writing to our Corporate Compliance and Privacy Officer (see Section VII below for information). If you have questions about your rights, please speak with our contact person, available in person or by phone, during normal office hours.

V. Complaints
